WORK IN PROGRESS

ClearMyEmails and ClearMyDocs: the projects under way.

Developments around email and documents, to reduce handling and make it easier to work with information.

Publié le 17 octobre 2026 — Imprimé le 27 novembre 2026

Messages, attachments and documents involve a lot of handling. ClearMyEmails and ClearMyDocs are being developed to make working with this information easier.

ClearMyEmails: email and the Infomaniak organisation

A connection to the Infomaniak API has been developed to simplify the management of accounts, calendars and contacts. The tool makes it possible, among other things, to create and assign CalDAV calendars and to organise delegations.

This meets concrete needs: preparing for a new colleague’s arrival, sharing the right calendars and changing access when responsibilities change. The functions are used within the scope of the permissions granted.

The project is still under development. The presentation of ClearMyEmails sets out the functions already built and how to discuss an integration.

ClearMyDocs: documents

Content is structured so that it can be reused and published. The consistency of sources and the quality of the final document are worked on together with production speed.

How this software is verified

AI agents can take part in development. Their work is examined using tests, reference results and code reviews. Errors and unusual situations are taken into account alongside everyday use.

These projects are in progress. To find out how far they have got and what trial options exist, contact Karbonic.